Politics: Laughing Hyena.
25,000 Speakases.
Would Gov. Smith Help?

A MAN LOOKING THROUGH the news is like a small boy in a menagerie. So much to see you have to run from car to cage, from the laughing hyena to the scolding hippopotamus and from the bar-bellie entourage to the placid elephant.

Politics may be called the laughing hyena of the human menagerie, and the crime wave is the outrageous elephant.

In politics everybody claims everything. Mr. Kaskab has already carried Pennsylvania for the Democrats, unofficially, and begins to feel that Hoover will not carry one state in the union.

Dr. Work, on the other hand, says the solid South is now solidly Republican and, say, for Gov. Smith goes one Southern state, why Dr. Work will be surprised.

Gov. Hughes is elected a World Court judge for forty-two years out of forty-eight. That is proportionately the vote that will be cast against the United States when it interests in that court conflict with Europe's interests.

And if a question should arise as to America's duty to pay Europe's war bills or cancel old debts owed us by Europe the vote would be 100 per cent hostile.

However, no foreign court can bind us, unless we all turn into international financiers and hopeless touts. Judge Hughes is an able man, and knows the law, international law included. No letter man could set a world court judge. If we must get half-way entangled.

Speaking of law enforcement, prohibition, etc., real figures are enlightening. When this writer was a young reporter, New York City had about 8,000 policemen, 8,000 school teachers and 8,000 salaried men, with an average of two hundred to each.

Now Mayor Walker of New York, determined to find out about speakases—the modern saloon—learns that New York City has at least 25,000 of them.

It is difficult for the authorities to close them, what with judges granting protecting injunctions, etc.

Perhaps it would not be so hard, if somebody paid as much to have them closed as the speakases pay to be let alone.

Berlin's stock exchange is depressed, and no wonder. When the war and the carpenter, accompanied by the little oyster, had "walked on a mile and all the little oysters or so, and all the little oysters waited in a row," you remember that they were started when disaster was ready, say they were the dinner.

France and England are the war and carpenter, German business men are the little oyster.

From now on, Germany must pay six hundred million dollars every year in GOLD. Where is Germany to get that amount of gold each year?

This country, stuffed with gold, has exported five hundred millions of its surplus, within a year, and the Federal Reserve bank financiers make that a private pleasure. Please turn to Page 1, Column 1.

Dundee, Scotland, Sept. 10 (AP)—Sir Harry Lauder, Scotch singer, was confined to his bed at his home here today with a chill. His voice was affected and he has cancelled engagements for the coming week.

NO SECRET CLAUSES IN FRENCH-BRITISH PACT

Grand, Sept. 10 (AP)—Aristide Briand, premier of France, today told the assembly of the League of Nations that there were no secret clauses in the French-British naval pact.

He said that he had been arranged for the sole purpose of facilitating reduction of armaments.

Delegates of 50 nations formed his audience and they applauded as he emphasized the peaceful purpose of the understanding.

M. Briand explained that Great Britain and France had different opinions on how to treat the problem of naval disarmament.

When their technical experts refused to change their views, the government representatives had gotten together and produced "a treaty, not even the makers of which would admit reduction of armaments."

He said that the pact was a simple one, and that it was a simple one, and that it was a simple one.

MYSTERY AUTO MAY SOLVE PLOT LEADING TO FATAL BREAK

A mysterious automobile which sped with engine running behind Dedham Jail during the battle marking the alleged escape of Stephen H. Hopper, a fugitive murderer, during which two trustees were slain, was being sought by State police today.

According to Det. Alf. Wilbur, H. Hopper has the number of the car, which parked directly in the rear of the wing where Hopper made his sensational break for liberty, which cost the lives of Herbert R. Ring and William J. Gienon, shot by mistake by Guard Ward A. Ridley.

Indian Alfred N. Hollis of Quincy, there is no question in the mind of the authorities that Hopper, noted for his jailbreaks, had outside assistance in the murder of Dr.

Johnston, Sept. 10.—Harvard "Jimmy" Johnston, representing the White Bear Yacht Club of St. Paul, Minn., stepped out in front of the field by getting together a party in the first qualifying round of the United States amateur championship here today.

SHOT WIFE WHO DIDN'T WANT TO HEAR RACE

Wallace Graham wanted to stay home and "listen to" the radio, his wife, who called herself a "radio widow," preferred theatrical entertainment.

That difference of opinion and its subsequent complications resulted in their separation and finally in his sending five bullet into her body in Quincy, Mass.

Graham told the story in a strange manner today at Quincy local headquarters today.

Without remorse, apparently, and without a word of explanation, he shot her.

A hypothetical question, the form of which by defense counsel, resumed three hours, dragged the Johnston murder case today in the periphery Court.

After the lapse of the three hours, a complete high school education in the evening was given to the jury.

That certificate of knowledge was given to the jury by Lincoln Preparatory School.

BODY OF SOMERVILLE GIRL FOUND IN TRUCK; POLICE HOLD DRIVER

Clad only in nightclothes and a thin overgarment, the body of Margaret McCallum, 21, missing since July 14 from her home in Rossmore st., Somerville, was found today in the cab of a parked motor truck in Providence.

The body bore large bruises about the legs and hips. Whether the Somerville girl was slain or the victim of an accident, and how, clad in nightclothes, she came to be 50 miles from her home in a truck, are facts not yet determined.

Louis F. Silva, 27, of Elm st., Cambridge, driver of the truck, was returned to the parked vehicle after police had discovered the girl's body.

AWAIT ACTION BY SEMINARY OFFICIALS

Northford, Sept. 19.—Safety work in Northford once more, Marion Stulen and Mary Staphela, Northford Seminary students who disappeared from the seminary for four days, are working today, wondering or not they will be permitted to continue their studies at the institution. The runaway girls were returned to the seminary early today. Both were suffering from blistered feet and exhaustion and they were immediately taken to the seminary infirmary where they will rest up for the next day or two.

The shapely girl had worn her shoes completely away on the long hike and she was walking in her stocking feet when she left the car that brought them here. The seminary authorities refused to permit the girls to be questioned by State police until after they had had their rest. Hot soup was given the pair after which they were put to bed.

LIVED ON FRUIT
The girls were taken into custody by a New Hampshire State patrolman who found them walking along the road near Exeter. Weary and bedraggled, the girls were taken to the Brentwood hospital in Exeter and were fed, after which they were put to bed.

"FAIR" ATTRACTIONS

The new cattle barns at the Topfield fair grounds will house the finest herds of registered thoroughbreds to be found in the country, when on Wednesday to Saturday the 10th annual Topfield fair is held at Topfield, just off the Newburyport turnpike.

Fairies have come in from far and wide according to Edward Wigglesworth, chairman of the cattle committee. The dairy cattle show, always a feature at Topfield, will be divided this year into seven sections, each devoted to a single breed. These will be registered Ayrshires, Guernseys, Jerseys, Friesians, Holsteins, Angus and Hereford.

Runaway Girls
May Be Barred
At Seminary

The girls told the Northfield authorities they ran away on a "wager." They were discouraged, they said, by the fact that they were assigned to different dormitories, after they had spent their first year at the seminary as roommates. Then, in argument with another student they suggested they could make their way without funds to Lebanon, N.H., where the ship high girls' father was supposed to be.

The finding of the missing girls came at a time when Principal Phelps, who had ruled up the first direct due to their whereabouts and were on their way to Lebanon, N.H., to locate the father who had eloped with their mother. They were on the road when word came that Officer Brown in Exeter had found them.

Brown, riding his motorcycle, noticed the two girls hiding along the road. One of the girls carried a book, a textbook of modern verse—unusually thin.

The officer declared he was struck by the appearance of the girls and stopped to question them. The two girls told him, and that they were hiding, but had not 50 cents to each between them. Later, under the questioning of Chief Dwyer, the Milton girl admitted that she and the ship high girl had come away with $15.50. She said they had 54 cents of this and that another 50 cents was spent to have Mary's hair clipped to a boyish bob.

Not referring to ability but to their coming appearance, Misses Harriet A. James and Margaret Harrigan, Essex County girls, who will give a series of classic dances at the Topfield Fair which opens Wednesday and continues to Saturday. Maybe a lot of visitors will miss the cattle show.

answered, "Oh, yes, that would be terrible," and then regretfully, "but there isn't much chance of that. You see John has got to work and earn some money."

The President's son is to enter the employ of the New Haven Railway as a freight clerk, which pays a maximum of $10 a week. He has asked to be assigned to the station at Hartford, so as to be near Miss Tremblay.

Informing that there had been rumors her engagement was to be announced September 8, Miss Tremblay said she "didn't know a thing" about it as she had been away and would have to "find out" when she saw her mother.

Specifically asked if it were not true that she and John had an understanding, she said, "We understand each other. You see I have my own understanding."

"Were the reports of your engagement, perhaps premature?"

"Yes, premature, that's the word." She said she would like to visit Florence again, but she would like to go there on an engagement trip. While in Europe Miss Tremblay and her party motored through France, Switzerland, Italy, England and Scotland. In her party were Misses Edna Stauffer, Miss Zoe Warner and Miss Emily Jones, a chambermaid, Miss Helen Evans, secretary of the M. H. Holske Club of New York. The girls all graduated from Mt. Holyoke last spring.

Miss Tremblay and the President's first son while she was a student at Mount Holyoke and as was a student at Amherst. He showed a marked preference for her as a dancing partner. He has offered the Tremblay home after Miss Tremblay has been a guest at The White House.

John Coffield will not go to Maine with Florence.

Hartford, Ct., Sept. 10.—Miss Florence Tremblay and her mother arrived here today on the train to join Governor Tremblay.

Miss Tremblay, who is now in the city, will not go with them. She will remain in the city, where she has an understanding concerning a be- liever.

Miss Tremblay said today that she does not know whether the President's son will visit her at the home or just when his plans are. Although John said to meet her at the pier, he has communicated with her since her return, she said.

Asked of the disappearance of her proposed fiancé into the background and any particular difficulties, she smiled good humorously and replied: "No, it's the newspaper publicity. I did not expect him to be at the pier."

BASEBALL DOESN'T SEEM TO BE SLIPPING

HAS FOUGHT SELF INTO SHAPERecent Bouts With Lee and Donovan Boost Mello

By JACK CONWAY

A. MELLO once more will lose his title as New England welterweight champion into the ring when he collides with Billy Murphy in a 10-round bout at Fenway Park on Thursday night.

Mello, one of the hardest hitters the welterweight class has known in years, has fought himself into shape. He has won his last three fights in a row, and he has been in the ring with the best of them. He has fought Donovan, Young, and Lee, and he has won all three. He has been in the ring with the best of them, and he has won all three. He has been in the ring with the best of them, and he has won all three.

The grand old game is still the national pastime. The photo shows a part of the crowd of 35,000 fans who turned out to watch the Yankees and Mackmen in the double-header at the Yankee Stadium in New York. Football, golf and hockey may be coming along, but they are still far behind the diamond sport.

URBAN SHOCKER
NOTED PITCHER, PASSES AWAY

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—Death has removed another of baseball's immortals—Urban Shocker, a hardy pitcher as the game has been in the past decade.

A victim of pneumonia and heart disease, Shocker died in a Denver hospital yesterday after an illness of several weeks.

One of the game's greatest heroes in his heyday, Shocker was no exception. Handicapped by ill health, the once great right-hander could not strike his stride. His year and was unconditionally released by the New York Yankees early in the campaign. He returned to St. Louis, where he had established himself as one of the game's leading money men, and entered the rubber league.
Stricken seriously ill, he entered a hospital at Denver in a vain attempt to recover his shattered health.

MR. BOSTON
By Jack Conway

"On to Bras Burn," said Mr. Boston as he slipped a couple of golf balls into the air. "I'm on my way out to West Newton to see if the gang in the national amateur golf championship can stop the rush of Bobby Jones."

A remarkable golf figure is this Bobby Jones. He started using golf clubs when most kids are building houses in the sand. He has come along to win the national amateur golf championship three times.

"Jones will meet some sturdy opposition at Bras Burn. Outmet, Guilford, Evans, Yon Kim and the rest will give everything they have in an effort to tip Bobby from his throne."

"There will be large galleries at Bras Burn this week. While the interest in the golf tournament is not quite as hot as that in the baseball scrumble between the A's and the Yankees, it is still greater than ever before. Millions of people are playing golf nowadays and every one of them will be waiting for the return of Bras Burn."

"Personally I'm interested in finding out how follows like Jones and Outmet click off 100s for 15 holes. I always thought a 70 was a nine hole score."

WOODSIES MUST MAKE UP FOR POOR START

The Woodsies had a disastrous weekend only giving one point out of a possible four and that one at the expense of Newark, weakest club in the league.

Against the Steelers they were two goals down at half time but came from behind in the second half to tie the score. Against the Glants at the Polo grounds they lost by the odd goal in seven.

The Blue and Gold total points for three games is one, a poor start for a club that won the championship last season.

Nygren, the former sandlotter, suggested both goals in Saturday's game and, according to reports, played a long time.

The locals will have a chance to revive the Glants' defeat Saturday, as the New Yorkers will be here for their first visit of the season.

The Brighton Rangers played brilliantly to defeat the Boston Glants 3 to 1, at Columbus Park, South Boston, in an exhibition game that drew a big crowd.

quette, Arlington, Frank Millicek,

Gaddy Picked for Jones Unable to Tote Today

For two weeks Johnny Kelly has been the king of the cat-dies, for he was assigned to tote Bobby Jones' bag during the Nationals at the Bras Burn Country Club.

But Johnny will not be on hand today when Bobby tries off, for the death of his grandmother forced him to pass up an opportunity that only comes once in the life of boys of his age, that of carrying for the Emperor of golf, Bobby Jones.

Eddie Fallon has been appointed to tote Bobby Jones and he will stay with the champion until Johnny Kelly reports for duty on Wednesday.

FULL RACE CARD
AT TOPSFIELD

A four day race card is on this week at the Topsfield Fair, which opens Wednesday morning and closes late Saturday night.

The program calls for a full dozen events, six Trot and six Pace. Two Trot and one Pace will be stake races. The classes are well chosen and the field of starters insures some of the closest competition of the season. Racing will start at 1 o'clock and finish at 4.

Purses in the closing events will be $200 for each race, and bring runs on the Added Money Plan, all entry fees will be added to the purse. The Stake races will call for a purse of $500 each.

The meet should prove highly successful from the viewpoint of the race fan.

THE PARENT AND SCHOOL CHILD

Re. DR. FRANK CRANE

WHEN the little boy or girl starts off to school for the first time the mother is disposed to sit down and

It marks an epoch. Her baby is gone. The rift has commenced to widen which is to separate her from her child. In the course of events the child often adopts a life and takes up with interests and companions with which the

Let her know what books the child is studying. Let her get acquainted with the teacher, invite the teacher to her house and demonstrate that they are working together.

You cannot expect the child to be on confidential terms with you unless you are on confidential terms with it. And you, being the older and the wiser, must take the initiative. The child may respond to your advances or may not.

And how about auxiliary reading? One of the important elements in a child's education is to cultivate good habits. Don't confuse yourself or child.

You need not expect the child to take the first step.

And how about auxiliary reading? One of the most important elements in a child's education is to cultivate a taste for reading. He should be gradually getting himself to children's books entirely. It is well not to stop doing this until he is twelve.

You may think that you are shooting over the child's head, but the little one often grasps things that you do not suspect. You learn a great deal of French or German from the children's books. You really get a word here and there, and your vocabulary is enriched. You may even when you do not grasp everything that is said. And you somehow get the feel of the language, the "sprachgefühl," as the Germans call it.

Just the little bits that you pick up permeate the atmosphere of good literature when much of it is incomprehensible.

There are certain classics or time-worn books that are the delight of almost every child.

"What child is there that does not love the adventures of 'Tom Sawyer' and 'Huckleberry Finn'?" There are also 'Kidnapped' and 'Treasure Island'—two charming novels of Robert Louis Stevenson. 'Alice in Wonderland' is of whimsicality that is almost always appreciated by the young. 'The Wind in the Willows' which William Riley can be understood by the child, and some of the tales of Sir Walter Scott can hold his interest.

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

Wise men learn more from fools than fools from the wise. —Cato.

To stumble twice against the same stone is a proverbial disgrace. —Cicero.

Wit, like money, bears an extra value when run out immediately it is wanted. Men pay for money who require credit. —Jerrid.

The flower of sweetest smell is shy and lowly. —Wordsworth.

in, as of all other things, his price is that it is to say, so much as will be given for the use of his power. —Hobbes.

We sometimes think that we hate flattery, but only hate the man under in which it is done. —La Rochefoucauld.

All authority must be either upon man's self, either upon his art, or upon a man. —Bacon.

No cord or cable can so forcibly draw, or hold so fast, as love can be.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 10—The talking movie is extremely important to this self-conscious community. Its success or failure touches the lives of every inhabitant. Directly it affects the well being of its players and producers. Indirectly depend upon them.

It installed equipment for talkies and is doing the best business in history. Those who know say the regular movie production will drop 75 per cent and be distributed chiefly to non-English speaking countries.

In the meantime Hollywood teeters between hope and despair. To some of the illustrious it means further affluence and to others it means knowing out of time picture. Unknowns will be catapulted to sudden fame just as they were in pioneering days.

But a doll face and a curl will not be the times qualities. The girl of rare beauty whose film tests have not had a chance whatever unless she possesses a "screen voice." This also applies to the collar ad, boys with patent leather hair and cute mus-

Scenario writers, too, are represented by a handful. The most successful find their efforts welcomed by buyers from critics. The case, for instance, "Ramona," which received a double-barrelled barrage of critical scorn. And in one of the biggest box office attractions of the year.

Hollywood Boulevard is already dotted with voice culture schools. Baby types whose emotional conversation is encompassed in "Ain't that perfectly dandy?" are going in for intensive cultural training. Durbin

While Hollywood waits the industrial and artistic revolution, production has touched zero and countless are pounding the pavements out of work. The greatest activity is among producers of talkies, who are making elegant preparations for full-scale musicals.

The world has hated movie titles and the insufferable inanity they often express. Yet the most brilliant critics had trials and their efforts were received coldly by the public, but of the thousands who have been

Why Railroads Do Not Fear Airplane Competition

Government authorities in the Department of Commerce at Washington report that American capital is being invested

Is the fast-developing airplane industry going to injure other transportation industries, particularly automobiles and railroads?

Not if we can judge the future by the past. We know that automobiles, instead of having injured railroads, are today one of the chief causes of railroad prosperity.

Last year, according to the figures of the Interstate Commerce Commission, there were 757,388 carloads of "automobiles, trucks and parts" which paid freight on the railroads.

There were 1,040,000 carloads of gasoline to supply automobiles. Other carload shipments of tires, lubricating oils, cement for road building, etc., produced a total of 3,267,388 carloads of freight directly traceable to the automobile.

There are fifty-nine railroads that use motor trucks for terminal operations and store-door delivery, or to replace local freight trains. There are sixty-seven steam railroads that use auto buses to extend their services.

And That Is Fortunate

Prosperity, comfort, peace and ease are the great things and cause men to forget even the deepest bitterness.

German flags were seen in Paris at the signing of the peace treaty, and Stresemann, the first German Foreign Minister to set foot in Paris in sixty-one years, is loudly cheered as he reaches the city. Men's capacity to forget and forgive is one of their most valuable assets.
